

"I want to foment a revolution of Evangelical life, spirituality, thought and Spirit-led power. My purpose is to mobilize, inspire and instruct an army of men and women for a revolution on behalf of the cause of Christ. The crisis of our age requires nothing less than a revolution of those who live in, proclaim, and seek to advance the Kingdom that was not made with hands."

Accommodations

The lodges at Ross Point Camp and Conference Center were designed to give adult groups the comfort and privacy they want along with a traditional beautiful camp setting. Twelve rooms overlook the river. Each lodge provides a peaceful setting for guests to enjoy the serenity of Ross Point free from the distractions of TV and telephone as well as having many amenities.

Cabins: bring your own sleeping bag or bedding and enjoy economical 12 bed dormitory-style cabins. Each cabin is heated and self-contained with a separate bathroom and shower with changing area.

The dining room overlooks the Spokane River, and wholesome, balanced meals family style at round tables include gourmet coffee and a garden-fresh salad bar at lunch and dinner.

ANNUAL ALL REGION
LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

2010 leadership tune-up for Ministers and Church Leaders

with J.P. Moreland and James Purves

September 27-29

Monday Noon-Wednesday Breakfast
Ross Point Camp & Conference Center
Post Falls, Idaho

presented by abcnorthwest

Considered by many to be the most effective meeting of the ABC-NW, Leadership Tune-Up is an annual, all Region event for pastors, their spouses, church staff and leaders. Since leadership is key to church health this conference seeks to resource all who have leadership roles to reflect its scope and purpose: a tune-up for leaders, all church leaders. Bring your whole staff and leadership board for training and team-building. It's also an important event for connecting pastors and churches across our entire Region.

This year's conference offers two emphases:

- Spiritual renewal and empowerment for ministry
- Increasing the Kingdom impact of historic, older congregations (with crossover lessons for a church of any age).

We endeavor to keep the cost as reasonable as possible. The Region passes along the amount Ross Point charges, which is extremely reasonable considering that meals are included. A small fee is added for the program, and the remainder is underwritten through mission dollars given to the Region.

J.P. Moreland

(Ph.D., USC; Th.M., Dallas Theological Seminary) is one of the leading evangelical thinkers of our day as a prolific philosopher, theologian and Christian apologist. He is a Distinguished Professor of Philosophy at the Talbot School of Theology and director of Eidos Christian Center.

With degrees in philosophy, theology and chemistry, Dr. Moreland has taught theology and philosophy at several schools throughout the United States. He has authored or co-authored over forty books, including Philosophical Foundation for a Christian Worldview, Scaling the Secular City, Does God Exist?, The Lost Virtue of Happiness and The Kingdom Triangle.

Dr. Moreland served ten years with Campus Crusade for Christ, planted two churches, and has spoken on over 200 college campuses, in hundreds of churches, and over 25 debates.

James Purves

is pastor of Bistro Baptist Church in Edinburgh, Scotland. It is the second oldest Baptist Church in Scotland (founded 1765).

However, they are not stuck in the past, rather, they are engaging this post-modern world. The church is alive with modern worship celebrations and solid Biblical education on Sundays. They meet as cell church and for prayer during the week. Dr. Purves is leading the church through numerous creative ministries which will provide excellent ideas for the ABCNW churches to study. More information and sermons may be found at www.bristobaptist.org.

Jim is married to Jennifer, has two adult children, and has been a pastor for 30 years. He has been pastor of Bistro Baptist Church for 16 years. He also serves on the denominational board of the Scottish Baptist Union, and as a research tutor at the International Baptist Theological Seminary in Prague, Czech Republic.
